Best Coctails — In this City

This morning on opening our country orders we were greatly pleased to receive the following from a gentleman in Bahia Blanca.
Gentleman.
I fully believe the advice given in your advertisment has saved my life. Yesterday I took a long drive in the camp. The morning was fine, but in the evening a terrible cold South wind came up and began to chill me to the bone. Last spring I was ill with pneumonia and my lungs have since been delicate; what could I do without wraps and only thin clothing on. All at once the idea occured to me that the suggestion in your advertisment might be put into practice, so I called at a rancho and asked for an old newspaper, folded it up, laid it across my chest, buttoned my coat and drove off triumphantly; but I may assure you, that next time I am in town I will call upon you and lay in a good stock of underclothing and also try a few of your celebrated Pyjama suits.
This is very gratifying and shows us that our endeavours to serve the public are appreciated, and that our motto 'the Best is Cheapest', is in the end the most satisfactory for all concerned.
We take the opportunity to thank our patrons for their past favours, and hope that our present pleasant relations may continue.

FRIDAY MARCH 11, 1892

TELEGRAMS

(via Galveston.)

London, 10th—Mrs. Osborne has been found guilty of perjury and has been condemned to nine months' hard labor. The sentence has caused a sensation in the high circles in which Mrs. Osborne moved.

St. Petersburg, 10th—The budget of the Navy Office is estimated at 17,882,233 roubles, an excess of 2,999,961 roubles, which will be invested in the building of new ships.

Washington, 10th—The Arbitration Treaty between Great Britain and the United States, in the Behring Sea Question, at present before the American Senate, has been published.

Hannover, 10th—The Duke of Cumberland has refused to entertain fresh overtures made with a view to induce him to abandon his claims to the Hannoveriau throne and reassure the German Government.

Vienna, 10th—The Russian Government is very much riled at Count Tolstoi's letters to the British Press on the misery in the Empire. It is said that the Government wanted to stop the correspondence and arrest the Count, but the Emperor would not resort to such measures.

New York, 10th—The debate on the Bill for the free importation of wool began to-day.

Adelaide, 10th—Great discontent prevails among the working classes owing to the scarcity of labour. A committee of men out of work appealed to the Minister of Public Works to-day, explaining the gravity of the situation of the working men and urging the necessity of adopting some measures to better their condition. The Minister promised to provide work on several state constructions that will be soon carried out. The Melbourne office gave employment to 1500 men.

GOVERNMENT INTERFERENCE.

The summary conduct of the Argentine Cabinet in expelling the 4 Directors, Unzue, Devoto, Demarchi and Salaberry, from the Board-room of the National Bank is another striking instance of the peculiar mode of government which prevails in South America, euphemistically called republican. A "coup d'etat" of this kind would be impossible in England or France, but would cause no surprise in Russia. We regret to say that it is received in Buenos Ayres with a certain amount of indifference, which is proof that popular rights and popular liberties are little valued among us. A casual observer would say that democracy is "played out" in Argentina, and that some form of constitutional monarchy would work better than the present system. It is for our Argentine friends to consider whether there is no hope of reforming the method now in vogue.

There is, meantime, one direction in which the interference of the Nat. Government is most desirable. We mean as regards the murders and robberies that are of daily occurrence, especially in the Province of Santa Fé. Unfortunately the President and his Cabinet turn a blind eye to the state of things in that Province. Lynch law has been introduced as the "ultima ratio populi" and two murderers have already been caught and executed, red-handed. But the provincial authorities are still harrying and plundering the colonists and wheat-growers, under pretext of collecting a local export-tax which the Federal Court has declared illegal. Why does not the National Government come to the rescue of the industrious settlers? Because it is too busy in meddling with the affairs of the National Bank.

There is a remarkable coincidence in the fact that, while Pres. Pellegrini and his Cabinet are endeavoring to impose their ideas of banking on the people of Buenos Ayres, the Montevidean papers announce the expected arrival of the Government Commissioner Ellauri from London "to take charge of the new bank of emission." If the people of Montevideo submit to the establishment of a new manufactory of shinplasters they must be bastard descendants of the men who held out 9 years against Oribe and his Cossacks.

It is high time for the people of Argentina and Montevideo to put up in all their public plazas this solemn notification in the words of President Pellegrini, last April:

"State-banking is nothing short of a national calamity."

DEATH OF DUKE OF CLARENCE.

ANOTHER REPLY FROM THE QUEEN.

Yesterday we published the reply of Her Majesty to the British women of Buenos Ayres. To day we are enabled to give that to the community in general: the latter is in response to a message of which the esteemed British chaplain, Rev. Pelham Ogle, was spokesman.

British Legation.
Buenos Ayres,
March 8, 1892.

Sir,

I am instructed by the Marquess of Salisbury at the Queen's commands to convey to the British community of Buenos Ayres, Her Majesty's sincere thanks for their kind expressions of sympathy towards herself, their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales, and the Royal family, on the occasion of the great sorrow which has fallen upon them, and upon the whole nation by the death of His Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence and Avondale and Earl of Athlone.

I should feel much obliged if you would cause to be made known to the signers of the telegram of condolence, the receipt by you of Her Majesty's above mentioned gracious message.

I am Sir
Your obedient servant,
F. Pakenham.

THE SUCCESSION TO THE THRONE.

There seems to be a good deal of misconception in the popular mind as to the line of succession to the Throne of this Empire—perhaps because it is a subject with which for fifty years we have, happily, had no occassion to concern ourselves. The Crown of England descends, like a Barony in fee, to the nearest heir of the last wearer, be that heir male or female-daughters being, of course, postponed to sons; and in the eventuality to which we have alluded the Crown would pass to the Duchess of Fife, and afterwards descend from her to her at present infant daughter, the Lady Alexandra Duff, always supposing that a son was not born to her in meantime. In that case the son would naturally take precedence. We might then (and the posibility is by no means remote) witness the curious sight of a Marquess of Macduff stepping direct from the Guards or the benches of the House of Commons to the Throne. So surprising is the ignorance of many people on this subject that there is even a notion that, failing Prince George, the Duke of Edinburgh would succeed to the Throne. But there are six lives between the Duke of Edinburgh and the Crown of England. In view of present interest in the succession, the following complete list of every possible heir to the Throne claiming through George III may be useful.

There are certain personages in the list who would obviously, from motives of public policy, never be allowed to succeed—e.g., the German Emperor; but foreign nationality, or the possession of a foreign Crown, does not of itself vitiate their right. Parliament could, and in the case of the Throne passing to a foreign Sovereign undoubtedly would, bar their claim, save, perhaps, in the case of the Duke of Edinburgh. That Prince will in the course of nature be Grand Duke of Saxe-Coburg; and in the lamentable and highly improbable case of a failure of all the Queen's more immediate heirs, he would have to choose between Coburg and England. The Prince of Wales, it will be remembered, became upon his father's death heir-presumptive to the Duchy of Coburg; but, to avoid the inconvenience of a potential British Monarch being also the heir of a Continental reigning Sovereign, he renounced his rights in Coburg in favour of his next brother.

The preceding remarks are from the St. James's Gazette, and we may sum up the succession to the throne of the U. Kingdom as follows:—

English heirs	....	16
German "	....	30
Greek "	....	2
Scotch "	....	3
Russian "	....	1

It is, however, ridiculous to entertain the idea of the English people accepting the Emperor of Germany as King of the U. Kingdon, or allowiug any foreigner to succeed to the throne. In fact it would go hard with the Scotch heirs, although if Prince George were to die without issue the claims of Lady Mac Duff would then have to be considered.

THE PARANA WATERWORKS.

A VERY BAD BUSINESS.

A general meeting of the bondholders (5 per cent. mortgage bonds) of the City of Paraná Waterworks was held at 17, Throgmorton-avenue, to receive and consider a report from the trustees as to the present position and prospects of the undertaking. Mr. J. Morris presided.

The Chairman said the meeting was called by the River Plate Trust, Loan and Agency Company—as trustees of the bondholders for the purpose of consulting them and taking their instructions as to the best course to be adopted under the circumstances which he would submit to them. The interest, on becoming due in January of last year, was not provided by the town, but they were informed by their representatives, after repeated applications to the authorities, that the money required for the service of the bonds was in the bank. Everything connected with the country at that time was so very unsettled that the trustees assumed, as the result of the information they got by cable, that the money was practically safe, and the River Plate Trust Company advanced it for the honour of the town. Notwithstanding that, they never could get the money from the town. They were told generally, that it was deposited at the provincial bank at Paraná, but beyond that they could get nothing in the way of information. The state of things in the country became more demoralising as time went on, and it seemed very difficult—almost impossible—to get attention paid to anything of that kind, and, therefore, they thought it better to quietly keep the pressure on as much as possible, and, ultimately, when things began to look a little brighter, to instruct their representatives to bring the matter to some issue with the authorities. Their friend, Mr. Toso, in Buenos Ayres, who had had considerable official experience, went to Paraná on their behalf with the idea in his mind that it was of no use in these times insisting upon the pound of flesh, because very often they snapped the indiarubber if they tried to stretch it too much, but he went with peaceable intentions and with every desire to accommodate the difficulties of the times. Therefore, Mr. Toso's modest suggestion to the town, was that they should pay them over the actual net revenue of the waterworks, that the trustees would accept that as payment on account, and that the authorities should give them some kind of acknowledgement for the balance. Of course, the trustees could only say they would recommend such arrangement, and they could not suppose that bondholders would be anything but reasonable. Mr. Toso went to Parana feeling confident that so moderate a suggestion would be agreed to without any difficulty, but he regretted to say that the Governor of the province did not meet them in the same spirit. He might remind them that the province was liable for that debt. They had three securities—the works, the province, and the town. Well, as he had said, they did not wish to press, at the present time, for a cent beyond the revenue of the waterworks, but that the authorities decline to hand over. The only offer made by the authorities was this, that if they would agree to take certain bonds, they would pay the trustees in that way their service of the existing bonds, including the hard cash advanced last year for the honour of the town. Well, the trustees did not see that they would be in any better position by accepting new bonds. (Hear, hear.) They could not see their way to recommend the offer, because practicaliy it came to this, that the town stuck to the revenue of the waterworks, and in return gave them only pieces of paper, which were no better than any piece of paper before them. Eventually Mr. Toso did obtain a further offer in the shape of a small payment from the town, amounting to about £600 a year. As the service of their bonds required £12,700 a year, of course the whole thing, was a farce. He might remark that there was no good security for the bonds which he had alluded to as being offered them, except taxes on what was called stamp paper, and they could not ascertain that that was of any practical value at all. The waterworks were not only mortgaged to the company in the general way, but by a registered mortgage. It would be unwise to go and flaunt that in the eyes of the authorities of the town and make themselves extremely unpopular, especially as they could go to work some other way. If they took proceedings, of course the town authorities might defend themselves, and if they had to fight with the "powers that be" in any country it was uphill work. What he suggested was that they should appoint a committee of bondholders to act with the trustees in negotiating with the town for some thing better than had been offered them. He wanted to show the authorities at Parana that behind the trustees there was a body of investors who had put their money into that thing, honestly believing that they had got a thoroughly good security, and who appealed to be dealt with fairly. During any negotiations they might keep in reserve the undoubted legal power they possessed, and, if necessary, afterwards get back their works and hold the town liable for any loss that the bondholders might sustain. He then moved "That a committee of bondholders be appointed to act in concert with the trustees in further negotiation with the authorities on the subject of the bonds."

In a few concluding words the Chairman said that the question of foreclosing had been fully considered, but they preferred, if possible, to obtain their rights in another way. At the same time, the trustees did not intend to prejudice the bondholders' rights in any way. (Applause.)

The resolution was then agreed to "nem con."

Mr. F. Praed, Mr. Buchanan, Mr. F. W. Jones, Mr. F. J. Gordon and Mr. F. Isaac (chairman Montevideo Waterworks) were then appointed a bondholders' committee, and a vote of thanks to the chairman terminated the proceedings.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

March 10th.

It is reported that the Government intends cutting down the expenditure of the War-office. The 3rd Regiment of cavalry is to be suppressed, also the 4th Battalion of Cazadores. The gunboats Artigas and Suarez, moreover, are to be disarmed. The only gunboat left is the Rivera. It is rumored that there is something wrong in the accounts of one of the Regiments, the commander refusing to take over the responsibility of the books kept under the previous commander.

The Chamber of Deputies are thinking of appointing a committee to examine the state salaries list.

The condition of the courts, in view of the charges contained in Drs Diaz and Salvañac's report, is to be rigorously inspected.

The yellow fever patients on board the Adela are progressing favorably.

A heavy fine is to be levied on the captain of the Brazilian steamer Victoria, who refused to land a yellow fever patient at Rio Grande, in order to escape quarantine.

There is nothing new from Flores Island.

The Aconcagua has arrived from Valparaiso and leaves this evening for Europe.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

In reference to the assault on the worthy and circumspect corporation of Olavarria, our contemporary the Nacion yesterday published a telegram stating that there can be no doubt that the police were at the bottom of the whole affair. We are sorry to see the Olavarria police breaking public order and public heads, and we trust the La Plata authorities will cause an inquiry to be made into this scandalous affair. In the meantime the local mayor has appealed to the Supreme Court of Justice of the Province for redress, but the wheels of Justice in the Plate go round so slowly that we sadly fear the affair will have been completely forgotten before the Court decides who is to blame. Municipal indignation, like champagne, fizzles very soon. The tradespeople of Olavarria have signed a protest against the police.

We are sorry to state that there is something wrong in the official accounts of that model colony, Esperanza. There are $49,000 to be accounted for in the Reception books. We suppose this is another effect of the crisis. Our Rosario exchanges give us to understand that this is not the only sum missing, from which we may infer the effects of the crisis are even more considerable. Another crisis-effect is reported in Rosario itself, where a wheat-firm employee bolted with several thousand dollars. He has not been captured.

In Esperanza Colony the leading settlers have their heads together about getting up a grand Agricultural Congress. All the other colonies are said to have jumped at the idea as quickly as North American heiresses spring at British coronets, when they get the chance, which is rather often of late years. As lawyers, editors, engineers, manufacturers, millers, merchants, veterinary surgeons, farmers, unpaid school-masters, and all sorts and conditions of men are to take part in this wonderful Congress, it promises to be as unique in its way as the late lamented Unique Bank. Why not ask the ladies to join it; they know quite as much of husband-ry (perhaps more) as lawyers, editors, vets, and all the other Toms, Dicks and Harrys who intend to air their eloquence on the occasion.

Advices from Cordoba state that the number of murders, robberies and outrages perpetrated in the departments of San Justo and Segundo is so great that there is no longer any security for life or property. The Government in the meantime does nothing, except discuss the prospects of the new Presidency. The settlers will have to follow the example of the unfortunate Jewish settlers in Palacios and take the law into their own hands.

We are glad to state that the famous Cadena Club in Cordoba has been dissolved. Gramajo, the head of the Cadeneros, is in prison. He appears to be implicated in the recent plot to annihilate the local Government.

WRECK OF THE EIDER.

Reuter's correspondent at Atherfield telegraphs:—At half-past nine this morning the Atherfield lifeboat Catherine Swift brought ashore two of the Eider's officers and eight firemen and a case of gold. The officers report that the vessel is full of water except the forepeak. The work of rescuing the remainder of the crew has been deferred. The tugs left the Eider during the night and no attempt was made to tow her off the rocks. The lifeboats and their crews remained in readiness all through the night, and the pumps were kept at work with the hope of keeping the vessel afloat. The water, however, poured in through the hole in the side of the ship and by seven o'clock this morning the captain signalled for the lifeboats to come out for the rescue of the crew, as the vessel was rapidly filling and was canting over. Her stern has sunk several feet, and the bows are standing some distance out of the water. By nine o'clock a lifeboat had got alongside, and the two officers and eight firemen mentioned above were brought ashore, though they landed with the greatest difficulty, owing to the heavy sea.

A later telegram from Reuter's correspondent, dated noon, says:—The sea is raking the stern deck of the Eider, and there is no hope of her being saved from becoming a wreck. There are now over 150 officers and men on board, and the lifeboats have been signalled to prepare for a further attempt to rescue them. No one has come ashore from the vessel since 9.30 this morning.

Telegraphing from Blackgang at noon to-day, Lloyd's agent reports that the Eider is still on shore and apparently settling down by the stern, with it would seem, little hope of the steamer getting off again. The sea was rough, with wind from the westward. Other reports state that the crew were being landed as fast as possible by the lifeboats from Atherfield, Brooke, and Brightstone, as the position of the steamer was critical in the extreme, the sea washing over the quarter-deck, and there would be great risk to life if the crew remained longer on board. The steamer was full of water aft; but her fore compartments were dry. Up to the time of receiving the latest report from the wreck the bullion and specie had not been landed.

The Princess Beatrice arrived in Southampton Dock at one o'clock to-day with a few bags of mails and 227 passengers from the stranded steamship Eider. They were conveyed from Ventnor to Cowes by road. The passengers, who have been well cared for, will proceed for Bremen by the Norddeutscher Lloyd steamship Havé, which is due at Southampton this afternoon. They are unable to give any further particulars than those already published, but state that when the ship struck there was no panic on board, and that the best of discipline was maintained.

THE RUSSIAN FAMINE.

About six weeks ago the Society of Quakers sent two gentlemen to the famine-stricken districts in South-Eastern Russia to report on the actual state of things, with a view of bringing relief to the starving multitude. Yesterday morning Mr. Brooks, one of the two delegates, returned by the Flushing boat, and gave the following information concerning the expedition:—

"Is there a famine at all, or is it true, as some Continental—notably, of course, Russian—papers try to make out, that there is really not much more actual distress than is generally the case in winter in the isolated country districts?" asked our representative.

"No famine! Why, in the South-Eastern Provinces of Russia twenty million people are this day on the point of death from starvation. That is the net result of the report we have brought back, and if I say twenty million I am in no way exaggerating. We have been travelling about from district to district, from one famine-stricken village to another, for the last few weeks, and what we have seen defies description. No words can tell what is going on in from twenty to twenty-three governments down in the south and east of Russia, and Samara and Saratoff are amongst the worst. We might have gone further on, for weeks, through other starving districts, but after what we have seen we came to the same conclusion as did the special correspondent of the German Petersburger Zeitung, whose articles have attracted much attention in St. Petersburg and Moscow. The correspondent whom we saw at Saratoff told us that after three weeks among the people, who were dying of hunger and whom he could not help, he turned sick with the horror of it all, and was returning to try and arouse people to a sense of what was going on. We did the same, and I repeat that language is too poor to describe the actual state of things."

"But how was it, Mr. Brooks, that the two capitals of the Russian Empire had to be told only by quite recent articles about what was going on?"

"I can't tell, but such is the fact. Even now the inhabitants of St. Petersburg and of Moscow have no more detailed and accurate information concerning the famine than has the general public in this country. The Government, however, is aware of the facts, and is, indeed, doing what it can to limit the distress. Twenty-five million roubles are being devoted to avert the wholesale starvation, but I say that 250,000,000 roubles is the minimum required to cope successfully with it."

"You started from St. Petersburg, of course. Did the Government there give you any assistance in your investigations?" "No. But neither did they put any obstacle whatever in our way. M. Pobedonostzeff was the first man we saw after we got to St. Petersburg. He gave us a long interview, and would have given us a longer one, but when we had said what we meant to say we took our departure. He told us that the Government were quite able to cope with the famine, but that we could go and see for ourselves what there was to be seen, and no obstacle would be put in the way of anybody who wished privately to give help to the villagers."

"Did the Tzar receive you?" No, but it was intimated to us that if we sought an audience through the ordinary channels we should be received. At the moment the ordinery application was not made, and the audience did not take place. But though we did not see the Tzar himself, we saw his shadow, which I believe is the next best thing. In the Court circles we were received with the greatest cordiality; everybody was interested, everybody approved of and sympathized with our object. In Moscow it was the same. Thence we went South, by rail as far as possible, and after that by sledge, by troika. And as we got into the governments of Samara and Saratoff we saw with our own eyes that none of the horrors of which we had read in the papers had been exaggerated. Wherever we made inquiries we heard of deaths from starvation, and while some had died, an enormous multitude was gradually, but surely, dying. In some villages the people had nothing to eat at all; in others they had a little rye-bread, and in others again not even bread, but just enough rye to make a kind of watery soup for morning and evening. In the middle of the day they had cabbage, but of none of these things had they enough to appease their hunger. I was told that many of the able-bodied men had gone away to the Caucasus. They could bear no longer to see their wives and children slowly dying before their very eyes, and to stand beside them unable to help.

"A disease is breaking out among the children, called the swelling disease, the result of starvation. We saw one little mite, dressed only in a short shirt, with its body swollen to an enormous size. It was horrible, pitiful to see. Then the suffering from the cold is so terrible. We went into one room, about twelve feet square, where nineteen people had crowded together to keep warm.

"You see, in the famine districts, there being neither wood nor coal, the only fuel is straw. The dung of the cattle is beaten up with straw, dried, and used as fuel. Now, last year there was no harvest at all, and consequently no straw. In many parts not a drop of rain fell from May to September. The crops were all scorched, the grass and the very leaves on the trees burnt up. A gentleman-farmer, a man who sowed 24,000 acres of corn, told us that he had not harvested a single sheaf; he was as badly off in his harvest as the peasants themselves. To the loss of the last harvest must be added the fact that for the last seven years the harvests have been bad, if they have not failed altogether. Presently when spring is coming, seed will be required. Where is it to come from?

There is yet another difficulty which adds to the terrors of this famine. That is the difficulty of communication with some of the districts. Now, Samara and Saratoff are two of the governments where the famine is most terrible, but they are not the most difficult to which to take supplies. They have railways; other governments have hardly any or none at all. Take Kazan and Perm for instance. Kazan has no railways at all, and the Perm line is too remote from the districts where help is most needed to be of any use in supplying these districts with food. What is done is done by means of sledges, and that is desperately slow work. Besides, there are few horses; the horses are dead—starved to death, the cattle are dying of hunger. The few horses that are left are too weak for work; they and the few remaining head of cattle are sold for a few roubles, but nobody wants them; nobody has food for them.

Think of what it means, not only in the terrible present, but also in the future! The Volga, which is the great highway of commerce through South-Eastern Russia during the summer, is frozen over. The ice will be there till March at least, and when it moves the river will be full of drift ice till into April, and navigation will be impossible. In the Samara and Saratoff governments corn can, at all events, be got for money; in the Kazan government, which is larger than England, not even money can buy it, for there are no means of communication with places whence the supply might come.

"Did the Governors of the various provinces receive you kindly?"—"In most cases yes. The Governor of Saratoff was most cordial and courteous; unpleasantness or rudeness we have met nowhere. Officially, we were left alone; privately, we were given most valuable assistance in the shape of letters of introduction, etc."

"England ought without a day's delay to raise a million of money and send it out to the famine districts. Officially nothing can be done in Russia; privately, everything; and I would engage to let such sums as are raised go into the right hands in the districts themselves; And let me say this: that if this thing is done, if we succeed in bringing help to these millions who are literally dying of hunger, a bond will have been formed between England and Russia stronger than any that has existed between them for the last fifty years. None but those who have their knowledge at first hand can know how intensely sensitive Russia is with regard to our sentiments and actions towards her, and if England now comes forward and helps, Russia will welcome her most enthusiastically."

CRUELTY TO YOUNG ENGLISHMEN.

The Rio News of March 1st prints a very eloquently-written letter from Mr. Donald MacNicol, protesting against the conduct of certain English firms and business houses in Santos and Rio Janeiro, who take little or no means to protect their junior clerks from the prevalent pestilence, and, indeed, sometimes cause them to be most unnecessarily exposed to infection. Mr. MacNicol writes feelingly, for he had the misfortune to lose a young brother through the plague at Santos, when a little consideration on the part of the firm employing him would probably have saved him. We quote the following passage:—

"Chancing to meet one of the principal foreign Consuls in Santos on Saturday last, he gave me the following information with liberty to quote it if I thought proper, viz: The admitted mortality in Santos in December last, according to official returns furnished him, was of some 860 persons; but his private advices on which he based his report to his Government, were to the effect that the number of deaths could not have been less than 1,200; or, in a single month, about 7 or 8 per cent. of the entire estimated population. A ship-master who had had extraordinary good fortune to survive five months in the plague-stricken port—five months of sedulous attendance on the slow grinding mills of "Order and Progress," and who had been noting the fate of his colleagues in the same circumstances, stated that within that space of time no less than fifty-six ship captains had succumbed to the pestilence. "If," as the Consul remarked' "such was the mortality among Captains, who shall calculate what it must have been among their sailors?" It were easy to multiply instances, and we know the sanitary conditions of the port are going from bad to worse."

PRES HARRISON IN THE CHILIAN QUESTION.

Mr. Editor,

Allow me to call your attention to the fact that the serious charge against President Harrison made by your London correspondent in his letter of 29th Jan. published this morning in the STANDARD and probably based on a Dalziel cablegram from New York, was contradicted the following day by a Reuter cablegram. Your correspondent's remark as to the President not being able to read Spanish is without point. First because the president is not the Spanish translator of the State Department. And secondly because all messages sent by Minister Egan from Chile on the subject of the then existing troubles were in the Naval Code.

B.

Buenos Ayres, 9th March 1892.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

Mr. Sandalio Lopez has brought an action against the Southern Railway for the recovery of damages to the amount of $143,000. Mr. Lopez maintains that the sparks from passing engines set fire to several stacks of wheat and destroyed 1,200 acres of maize. Mr. Lopez, furthermore, maintains that the Company were culpably negligent, for, if the line had been cleared of dry grass, as set forth in the Regulations, the fire would not have spread.

Engineer Ortiz-Viola has laid before the National Railway Board an interesting report on the recent inundations of the Central Argentine Railway. The inundations were caused by the overflowing of the Rio Tercero. All the damage caused to the line has been repaired by the Company. Mr. Ortiz-Viola states that it would be advisable for the Government to give some attention to the Rio Tercero, which may overflow again and cause another disaster, perhaps on a larger scale.

Dr. Miguel M. Nogues has been named Vice-President of the National Board for this year.

The following appointments on the Central North line have been proposed: Manuel Martinez, Secretary; Lisandro Astiqueta, Chief of Stores; H. Barrio, Inspector of Telegraphs; R. Granago, Chief of the Salta section.

Engineer Ludwig, who has just returned from a trip over the Transandine Railway, states that the works are very solidly built and that the line, incomplete as it is, is in every way a model. It is probable that Government will soon decree the opening of the section from Uspallata to Rio Blanco.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday's chief event was the rousing row at the Centro American station, where the volunteers returning from their first goose-step drill at Palermo asked the manager to put on some more cars, to carry them comfortably into town. This was imprudently refused, a "mayoral" made a too vigorous observation, and the shindy began. The mayoral was first well caned, and then windows, lamps and everything breakable in the two cars in which seventy Volunteers were packed were smashed to bits. After a great deal to do the police put an end to the disgraceful affair.

Our financial Cato has resigned at last, and Basavilbaso is likely to inherit his post. This may help to settle the National Bank muddle.

We warmly welcome Admiral Walker and the officers of his squadron, which arrived at Ensenada on Wednesday evening. The Atlanta, Chicago and Bennington are splendid vessels. The Admiral has already issued 120 invitations to visit the squadron.

There was a grateful last-rose of-summer feel in the air yesterday, and the rain was jofully welcomed. Last year's autumn clothes were visible in many quarters. A new coat is rarely seen in these crisis times.

We regret to say that the yellow fever sufferer on board the R.M.S. Thames died yesterday morning.

We call attention to the advertizement of the Amateur Athletic Association in another column.

Some unkind neighbour fired a shot at the corner of Calles Moreno and Chacabuco on Wednesday night, about 12 o'clock, and gave the police an "alerte;" but they failed to find him.

The famous Russian organ, Le Nord, published in Brussels, is dead, after an existence of 38 years. It was started during the Crimean war.

We understand that all the arrrangements are completed for celebrating St. Patrick's Day in a becoming manner. The religious ceremonies, including High Mass and sermon, will commence at the Passionist chapel, Calle Caridad, at 11 o'clock. It is worthy of note that two Catholic churches will be solemnly inaugurated on the 17th, namely that of the Passionists already mentioned and that built by Father Sheehy at Rosario. A banquet will take place at George Mercer's Restaurant, Calle Florida, at 7 p.m., Professor Fitzsimons in the chair, Dr. O'Farrell acting as Secretary and Mr. Peter Ham treasurer. We may observe that it is 10 years since the last St. Patrick's banquet. Col. Mulleady's band will play at the Passionist church in the morning, and Dr. Donovan's police band at the banquet in the evening. A good number of tickets has been sold, and it is desirable that Irish residents apply for tickets early, so as to know the number likely to be present.

The weather message from London yesterday to the River Plate Telegraph Company again beat the record and came across the ocean in five minutes. If the speed keeps increasing at this rate, this weather message will soon come in "no time."

Those who know how difficult it is to get a good pipe in Buenos Aires will be glad to hear that Messrs. Ravenscroft, Rowland and Mills have had a consignment of Loewe's celebrated pipes sent out to them. They are at present in the custom-house, but will be delivered in a day or two.

The "Piedra Movediza" at Tandil is not such an exclusive wonder as the good Tandileros imagine. The other day we mentioned a similar stone in the United States, and yesterday we fell on (without hurting ourself) the following interesting paragraph in the Plymouth Weekly News:—"One of the most remarkable of the wonders of the Land's End is without doubt the immense granite block known as the Logan Rock. This stone has a remarkable history. How it originally came, weighing 90 tons as it does, to find a resting place in the peculiar position it now occupies history does not show, but early in the present century its career as a geological wonder narrowly escaped a sudden termination. A naval officer with several seamen mischievously conceived the idea of upsetting the rock's peculiarity of lending itself to oscillation by slight human exertion and with little ado they upset the stone from its pivot. In return for their pains the perpetrators of this stupid trick were compelled to restore the stone to its former position; and it was only after considerable trouble and expense that the Logan Rock was righted."

We received yesterday a letter addressed in the following comical fashion, "To any English resident in Buenos Ayres." The Post Office authorities thought naturally that such a very elastic address would fit the STANDARD; so we opened the missive and found it to be a soul-stirring appeal from a school-boy at Sydenham for some used-up postage stamps. Master Douglas, our correspondent, says, amongst other things: "I am one of a very large tribe. I am a school-boy and not a professional dealer in stamps. I got this idea from hearing of a young fellow who wrote to his father's foreign customers, asking, as I am, for stamps. He found it a most paying plan. For not only did he get many nice stamps from other places, but one gentleman in Japan sent him 78 different stamps of that counrty alone, a marvellous haul. I wish you, Sir, to be as good-natured as this gentleman was, please!

P.S. (most important)—Whether you can or cannot send me any, Sir, you will still be very kind if you pass this note on to other people as common property (grand acquisition, eh?), instead of into the waste-paper box."

Our young friend will get on in this vale of tears; his undisguised admiration for the "paying" business which the other young fellow hit on shows him to be a born trader; and we intend to send him some stamps to help him on.

In the last six days of February 292 people died of yellow fever in Rio. Since then the disease has shot still further ahead.

The terrible electric light fatality at Montevideo the other day has led the company to already commence changing the wires to underground. This is a prompt and proper concession to public opinion. In New York it took a stiff mob demonstration to do away with the overhead wires.

There is a breeze in Montevideo just now, owing to a police order that all the low singing cafes in Calle Santa Teresa must move within thirty days to Calle Isla de Flores; and the inhabitants of the latter street are in a ferment of boiling indignation at having such very undesirable neighbours imposed on them in such summary fashion.

The beautiful Mrs. Norton one day went to buy some plaster casts for her niece to use as models in drawing. The proprietor of the shop displayed a large collection of hands, arms and ears, and finally held up a very symmetrical nose. "There, ma'am," said he, "I can safely recommend that. It is the Hon. Mrs. Norton's nose, and hartists do buy a lot of 'em. It's very popular."

We thank Mr Peuser for another contribution to the STANDARD Library—the 2nd edition of Mr. Olivera Cesar's charming "Amores de Una India." The engravings are as beautifully finished as in the first. Lovers of the chase will find exciting tales and pictures in this popular work.

The Lord Mayor has postponed till August the call for tenders to erect drinking kiosks in the public Plazas. Better postpone it till the Greek Kalends. The facilities for getting drunk which this city already possesses are not surpassed by those of any other capital under the sun, moon and stars.

The editor of a musical paper remarks with much truth that half the people who attend musical entertainments "don't know the difference between a symphony and a sardine."

Our philanthropic subscriber, advertizer and friend, who positively refuses to clothe the naked except on the strictest cash terms, sent us the following telegram from Montevideo yesterday:—

Dear STANDARD,

Acting upon your friendly advice of a few months ago I am here, opening a branch of my Buenos Ayres house, so now Sims Reeves has arrived and will sing

Yours,
J.-Brown-the-tailor-terms-cash.

We thank our esteemed colleague the Montevideo Times for its flattering allusion to the coming edition of our Hand book.

We have received from the Washington Statistical Department a copy of the third annual report on Railways in the United States. Our railway friends are welcome to a peep at it.

Oh! The French Government has written to the Argentine Foreign Office to say that nearly all the live sheep sent from this country to provide Monsieur with good fat mutton—a thing he has not got himself—are found to be suffering from scab; and the authorities have solely refrained from destroying or sending them back out of deference to the Argentine Government. Our growers and shippers are incorrigible. Sheep, wool, wheat, hides, horses—everything is sent to Europe in the most careless, harum-scarum way.

We saw an amusing printer's error in an official railway document yesterday: "id erat," "demonio publico" for "dominio publico." As railway matters in this country have lately gone in the direction of the three D's, the error is by no means inappropriate. Perhaps it was no error, but a sly joke on the part of some official.

Ho! Ho! Mr. Sandalio Lopez has let loose the dogs of law against the Great Southern Railway Company for having set fire to his camp. He asks $143,000 damages.

The good Zoos are again looking after the cats, and have given prizes to two good little girls, Mesdlles Estela and Elvira Belisario, for saving the life of a member of the feline tribe.

This paragraph is exclusively for the ladies:—"The costliest garment in existence, independent of any jewelled decoration, is said to be an ermine mantle which was the silver wedding gift of the nobility of Kherson to the Czarina of Russia. Ermine is, however, an exceptional material. The costliest dress piece for a gown which might be worn in society was a richly-embroidered Lyons silk, which, after being shown at the Paris Exhibition of 1867, was sold by Grant and Gask, in London, for eleven hundred pounds. If the lady for whom it was bought was diamonded en suite, she would indeed be a precious dame."

Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to ITS EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.

It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Thursday, March 10.

The market to-day was full of rumors of the impending resignation of the Minister of Finance, Dr. V. F. Lopez. We cannot say that the market will regret the departure of Dr. Lopez from a post for which he was unsuited, but we may as well add that the market does not rejoice at the prospects of his withdrawal from the Cabinet. Our financial Cato has committed so many errors since August 1890 that a conviction is rampant, confirmed by recent events, that he cannot commit any more; meantime, there is no knowing who his successor may be, or what experimental financing he may resort to. There is already some talk of Dr. Don Juan José Romero as future Minister of Finance, but we very much doubt if he will take over the financial interregnum between this and the 12th October, when the new President will take office. Others mention Dr. Basavilbaso, and this name sounds more plausible under the circumstances.

At all events, at the present juncture little importance is attached to the impending change in the financial portfolio. The gold market rules firm, in spite of the bearish propensities of the speculative body in general. Sixteen thousand ounces changed hands for cash; the price opened at 56.50$, fell to 56.40, rose to 56.70, and closed hard at 56.50, say 247¼ % premium. About three thousand sovereigns changed hands; the price opened at 17.55$, rose to 17.60, and closed at 17.55, say 248¼ % premium. It is amusing to see the stubborn resistance of the gold premium at the very moment when the whole market is inclined to operate in a bearish direction. It cannot be said that any strong bullish speculation is afoot at present; the premium rises owing to the requirements of the situation.

Patriotic Bonds fell to 60.35 this morning. National Cedulas C were steady at 70. La Plata Cedulas were weaker than yesterday.

The exchange market was a shade weaker this morning. Francs were done on Paris at 5.08¼ to 5.09¼, and on Antwerp at 5.11 francs. Sterling was quoted at 48¼d. Discounts continued difficult.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—

Advices from London state that the Argentine Commissioner, Dr. Victorino de la Plaza, had a very severe attack of influenza. We are glad to announce that according to latest advices Dr. Plaza is now convalescent; during his illness he received daily attentions from the principal bankers in the city.

The latest phase about the National Bank muddle is that the Caja de Conversion has also something to say in the matter. It appears that the Caja has a right by law to name a special commission to superintend the liquidation of the Bank. This is more fat in the fire, as the commission of the Caja will probably support the liquidators appointed by the shareholders, and now summarily dismissed by the Finance Minister.

Mr. A. Lannusse, who was elected chairman of the Camara de Comercio last week, resigned the post to-day. At the next meeting of the Camara a successor will be elected.

The news of the resignation of the Minister of Finance was confirmed this afternoon. Dr. Lopez, it is said, sent in his resignation last night, but it will not be officially announced until his successor be found. Our colleague the Diario thinks that Sub Secretary Mr. E. Hansen will be requested to fill the post. No man has more experience of the working of the Finance Office than Mr. Hansen, who is in every way qualified for the high post.

The cheques of the Provincial Bank were quoted to-day at 43¼ % discount; those of the National Bank at 28¼ to 29 % discount. La Plata Mortgage Bonos were done at 12¼.

Mr. John Sewell, the well-known manager of the Curamalan estancia, was welcomed on'Change to day. He reports a splendid wheat crop at all the colonies on the estancia, but the maize fields have suffered by the locusts. The Curamalan farmers will turn out this season four hundred thousand fanegas, which gives an idea of the magnitude of the crop in that flourishing district. The season has been exceptionally favorable to wheat growing.

The Pacific steamer Aconcagua, from Valparaiso, arrived at Montevideo today; she left in the afternoon for Europe.

The Lamport and Holt steamer Wordsworth is due in the river. Among her passengers Mr. E. Casey and Mr. Oliver are expected.

Mr. N. A. Calvo sold at auction at the Corrales the following animals to-day:
15 cows at $18, buyer Sr. Linares.
40 do for 'invernada' at 16, buyer Sr. Artube.
112 do do at 15.15, Alzaga & Co.
66 calves at 12.50, P. y Botto.

The stagnation in the wool markets continues. Both buyers and sellers are out of the field, and arrivals from outside are small.

We hear that the forgery of cheques on the Provincial Bank has been grossly exaggerated. Only one forged cheque or conforme for 1000$m/n has been detected, and it is thought that the forgery ends there.

Our colleague Diario has begun to translate the dull and lengthy article on Argentine finances and the Rothschild-Morgan Committee published recently in the Investor's Review. Making due allowance for a sub-stratum of truth, the article in question is a tissue of misrepresentations calculated to mislead the British public.

M. A. de Missola has applied to the Government for authority to connect this city with Rosario by means of a telegraph line of the Testa system. The cost of the line is calculated at 300,000 dollars m/n and a company, called the Electrofanica Franco Argentina, has been formed to work the patent.

Telegrams from Rosario quote wheat at 10.80$ to 10.90$ per 100 kilos.

Telegrams from Rio announce exchange on London at 11⅛d.

2000 hides in one of the Saladeros of the Cerro, Montevideo, have been sold under salt to deliver this month at 48rls. per pesada put aboard.

The gold market ruled weak at the 2nd ring: thirteen thousand ounces were sold for to-morrow; the price opened at 56.50$ and closed at 56.10$, say 244¼ % premium. Sovereigns opened at 17.55$ and closed at 17.40$, say 246¼ % premium. All stocks and shares were dull.

The Camara Sindical has expelled over one hundred members for non-payment of the monthly quotas. About five hundred have been expelled since the middle of last year; this wholesale expulsion must considerably affect the returns of the Bolsa Building Co.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares to-day at the second ring:—

Mr. W. D. Heineman presided on January 29 at a meeting of the holders of the 5 per cent debentures of the Buenos Ayres New Tramways Company, held at the offices, Great Winchester Street. The meeting was called for the purpose of considering and passing a resolution, binding on all the debenture holders, to the effect that the coupons for interest falling due on February 1, 1892, and February 1, 1893, should not be paid, but should be exchanged for interest bonds for their face value, payable on July 31, 1893, and bearing interest, so far as regards the amount representing each coupon, from their due date at 6 per cent per annum out of profits, subject to any charges given or agreed to be given, and modifying the rights of the debenture holders accordingly. The Chairman moved the resolution, which was seconded by Mr. Kirby, and agreed to, after a short discussion.

Montevideo items:—

"From Feb. 21st to 29th inclusive, Liebig's factory at Fray Bentos slaughtered 13,337 head of cattle, or an average of over 1,400 daily, making a total to date of 58,889. Last Friday a fire occurred in the guano mill attached to the factory, but the damages were not serious.

"It is said that the negotiations for the arrangement of the Municipal loan are practically complete, and that a definite answer is expected from London on Friday next.

"A Cerro saladero has sold 2,000 salted steer hides under salt, all March, at 48¼ reals pesada p.o.b.

"4650 arrs. wool were sold in 'feria' yesterday at 20¼ to 28 rls fleece, according to quality. In deposit 2,000 arr. wool from Concordia, good, have been sold at 23 reals, and 2000 ditto from Gualeguay at 21¼.

"The Wordsworth, with Mr. E. Casey on board, is expected to-day. He is said to be accompanied by Mr. James Oliver, already known in financial circles out here. According to some accounts the latter comes, not to propose the reorganisation of the National Bank, as was at first reported, but on behalf of the bondholders protesting against the enforcement of the Conversion scheme. In the latter case we fear he will have his journey for his pains, for the Government shows no symptom of listening to reason or right in the business."

The Montevideo Times writes as follows on the Banking Bills of the Uruguayan Government:—

"The report of the Finance Committee of the Senate on the Banking Bills was published yesterday. It is very lengthy, and, as is generally the case with these documents, contains a quantity of entirely superfluous matter and vague generalisations. Sifting down the matter to that which really relates to the Bills in question, we find that the Committee considers the liquidation of the National Bank an unfortunate necessity, and accepts the Administrative liquidation proposed by Government, not as the best but as the least bad. It suggests that the payment of the Liquidating Committee should be modified. It approves the scheme for the establishment of the National Mortgage Bank, but raises some feeble objections to the alteration in the service of the Cedula introduced by the Representatives. Respecting the proposed new National Bank, it approves the modifications introduced by the Representatives, and suggests that to secure the lodgment of the first capital the Executive should exact in the contract of concessions efficacious guarantees, and that the latter payments should be made under penalty of losing all the privileges conceded. It also suggests that branches in Salto, Paysandu and Mercedes should be opened at once. It proposes the following addition to Base 5:—'The failure to convert any single note shall, by this sole act, produce the loss of all the privileges of the Bank.' The report adds that the Executive has consented to these modifications."

We take the following from the circular of Messrs. Bossio and Selves, dated Paysandu, Feb. 29—

Vessels despatched from 15th Feb. to date Alba, Fray Bentos, 770 pipes tallow, orders, Liebigs.

HORSFORDS
BAKING POWDER

Ordinary Baking Powders are made either of Cream Tartar or Alum, Cream Tartar powders leave in the bread Rochelle Salts, a continuous use of which is not desirable. Alum powders are condemned by physicians as unhealthful. Neither of these powders add anything of nutritive value to the bread, and both produce, biscuit, cake, etc., that are dry and tasteless when cold. Professor Horsford's Phosphatic Baking Powder leaves in the Bread etc., the life sustaining Phosphates of which the flour is deprived in the process of bolting, and which are necessary to maintain health.

DAY. SON & HEWITT'S
Veterinary Medicines

Mr. Wm. Kemmis, the well-known breeder of fine stock, writes as follows:—
Estancia Las Rosas, Ferro-Carril Central Argentino, 10th Jan., 1891.

I consider that no estancia which has any stock worth giving medicines to ought to be without these medicines.

The GASEOUS FLUID is the very best colic medicine I have ever seen given to horses, and the RED DRENCH for any illness after foaling or calving or lambing is, I consider splendid.

Yours truly,
(Signed) W. KEMMIS.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

The original and only genuine

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, etc.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Lear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medecine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent, we could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Sapasms, Crampas, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation dury many years. In Cholerale Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we haye witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION,—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworm to.—See the "Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

EXTRACT OF TOBACCO.

According to numerous testimonials which we hold the extract of pure tobacco is the only infalible remedy to radically cure the scab in sheep and naturally the cheapest. As there are several trade marks like ours care must be taken to see that the extract bears the key marks, without which it is not genuine.

Directions for use

One part of extract mixed with 100 to 150 parts of hot or cold water for bath, and with 80 to 100 parts for hand curing.
